Reception at Peck Chapel.

The Society of the Covenant will hold a reception for the congregation of the Church of the Covenant tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock at Peck Chapel, M. and 28th streets, to view the new and improved building. This building has been so enlarged as to include a gymnasium, reading room, room for cooking school, men's room, boys' room, girls' room and intermediate and primary class rooms. It will be one of the finest institutional buildings for church work in the city. It is due to the generosity of the parent church that this has been possible, and this opportunity is given for them to have the first view of the completed structure. Among other improvements is the completed tower, in which is a very fine clock, lighted by electricity at night.

Assaulted Wife and Policeman.

Henry Johnson, colored, faced two charges of assault when his name was called in the Police Court this morning. His wife, Julia Johnson, was complainant in one case and Policeman Coffin, the prosecuting witness in the other.

According to the testimony, Johnson took some articles from his wife's trunk yesterday which she thought he ought not to take. That started an altercation. It was alleged that Johnson struck the woman and her screams attracted the attention of Policeman Coffin, and he rushed to the house. When he arrived, blood was streaming from cuts on the woman's face and one eye. Johnson was just rushing out the door from the back door. The policeman gave chase and caught the fugitive. When he was taken to the station house, and was being led to the cells, he turned and struck Coffin. A fight was thus started, ending soon in a victory for the policeman. When Judge Kimball had heard the evidence and the defendant's story he imposed sentences that will aggregate one year, less one day, in jail.
